Licensee Alert

It has come to the California State Board of Accountancy's attention that licensees of this Board are being contacted by telephone from a person claiming to be from the California Board of Accountancy.

All licensees should know that the California Board of Accountancy is not conducting this survey, and it has no connection with the person or persons claiming to be from the Board.

The caller is asking licensees to complete a survey for the purpose of updating the Board's database. It is the Board's understanding that the caller asks the licensee about his or her scope of practice, including whether the licensee does auditing or internal auditing.

While licensees may choose to answer these questions, they should be aware that they are talking with a private individual, not a representative of the California State Board of Accountancy. Licensees are urged to protect their private and personal information.
